

Scope Of Quality Management System

The Quality Management System covers all aspects of the I S O 9001:2015 Quality Management Standard

Telcom Networks are an internet service provider specialising in the provision of internet networking design and installation services in commercial and residential properties, including the management of outsourced associated groundworks

The interested parties associated with their operations are Telcom Group who are involved in a wide range of functions to support Telcom Networks plus other members of the group such as Telcom Infrastructure

Internal and external issues are reviewed on a regular basis as part of Leadership meetings and information detailed in the management review section of the relevant meetings.